Sweet's Falls

CONCORD

SWEET'S FALLS is a solid Class V rapid on the Gauley River in West Virginia. It is one of the most popular advanced whitewater runs in the Eastern US and the chief feature of the Gauley River National Recreation Area. The "Falls" formerly known as Devil's Backbone was renamed after John Sweet, a canoeist and the first decked-boater to run it in 1968. Each year starting the Friday after Labor Day, the Army Corps of Engineers provides a series of 22 controlled releases for the express purpose of downriver recreation. These releases are collectively known as "Gauley Season" and are scheduled on six successive weekends. Sugar Creek Sweet's Falls Wine is a wine fermented from the Concord grape and produces a highly aromatic and pleasantly sweet wine.
